

Yesterday, I met with a group of students from the Jewish organization PANIM (Face to Face). These high school students are from our district. They presented their concerns to me on homelessness, Social Security, the war in Iraq, global warming and energy policies. I welcomed the opportunity to hear the insights from some of our community's young leaders.

Persons in the photo include: Lani Hart of Buffalo Grove, Adam Beckerman, Abby Weinstein of Deerfield, Jeremy Grobart, Michael Levi of Chicago and Representative Mark Kirk.